Dr. James S. Taylor of the Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia, was engaged as director of laboratory and pathological examination.

...and paranoiac at a salary of $5,000 per annum, this morning at a meeting of the board of managers held with Mayor C. J. Hochman in his office in the city hall. For several years there has been a movement on foot to have a pathologist engaged in the city, which finally culminated in the action taken today.

Dr. Taylor is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins University and served for two years in the pathological laboratory of Johns Hopkins and at the present time is pathologist in the Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia.

phia. He will assume his duties there on May 1, when he will take charge of the city laboratory on John street.

By the city engaging a pathologist to have charge of the laboratory the board of health receives state aid.

Aside from these he will devote positive attention to enactment of the necessary appropriation bills providing funds for government operation during the next year. But half a dozen other measures may draw negatives.

Saturday Society Review

On Tuesday of this week Mrs. H. Loughran of Hurley, who is a native of New York city, where she was a caller at the apartment of Mrs. Watson, actress, who is now playing the leading character role in the popular comedy hit, "No More Ladies".

Miss Watson, whose part has attracted wide attention because of its fine costuming, showed keen interest in the Wilby Golf Club Fashion Revue and Dance, and expressed that she had been impressed during the run of "No More Ladies" by the interest of New York audiences in early American costume.

Miss Watson's period costume was designed by Mrs. Ogden Goebel and an article on them appears in the Vogue magazine for March 15.

Kingston and Ulster county will be the scene of a "No More Ladies" tour when a period costume show is proposed. Many of the dresses and hats collected with such care belonged to women who still remembered by the older residents of the city. One of these is a quaker dress and bonnet which belonged to Phoebe Betts, aunt of the late James A. Betts, which is being loaned by his son, James H. Betts.

Mrs. Abram Jansen of New Paltz has given a full skirt and bodice which was worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Jane, of Elmendorf, of Hurley, who lived in the old stone house now belonging to Henry Dunbar.

From Mrs. Catherine Chalker comes a dainty dainty costume, over skirt and hat, with lovely hand worked collars and cuffs belonging to Dr. Chalker's mother, Mrs. Wallace Crane.

Mrs. Wallace Crane has loaned two beautiful straw Godey bonnets, lace lined, perfect in their color combinations and arrangements of flowers. In contrast to these, the black beaver "Merry Widow" hat which comes from Mrs. William Hasbrouck of Stone Ridge.

The Misses Margaret and Mary Treadwell have contributed several dresses belonging to their aunt, Mrs. Jeanette Cole, the loveliest of which is a hoop skirt and bodice of flowered bengaline with a collar of very old lace. A surah silk and taffeta costume in blue and gray which belonged to Mrs. Thomas Tremper, is being loaned by Mrs. William Delaplane.

Some of the finest outfits are being given by Mrs. Howard Grimm of New Paltz. These dresses belonged to her mother, Mrs. T. J. Hardenburgh, and reconstructed a complete picture of the gay '90's—the wide swishing trains, high necked and puffed sleeved evening dresses, heavy velvet skirts with taffeta insets. If you would see yourself traveling a hundred years ago, a linen traveling duster belonging to Mrs. Cole, a cart wheel hat loaned by Mrs. Abram Elmendorf of Hurley, and the quaint hand bags of the period will give you that picture.

Mrs. Frederick Warren has loaned among several outfits, a figured silk evening dress of the '80's trimmed with lace and black velvet bands and also an unusual white lace evening dress. From Mrs. Charles Hardenburgh of Stone Ridge, Mrs. Guilford Hasbrouck and Mrs. Clarence O. Fromer of this city come several dresses and hats that are choice heirlooms.

During this coming week the costume committee will continue their work of collecting and assembling these outfits, giving special attention to wedding dresses and trousseaus, which have been promised by others of the city who are interested in making this revue the most complete of its kind ever to have been held in Kingston.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Roger Loughran, general chairman, gave a tea at her home for those who will wear and present these costumes to the audience on the evening of the Revue. Miss Elizabeth Betz, chairman of the committee on manikins, and Miss Elizabeth Terry, vice-chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Conrad Heiselman, Miss Frances Finn, Miss Margaret Searle, Miss Emma Brown, Miss Margaret O'Meara, Miss Beulah Phelps, Miss Beatrice Durbin, Miss Mary Cunningham, Miss Janet Betz, Mrs. Charles Fogg, Mrs. Harold Rakov, Miss Carolyn Ensign, Miss Lenor Wonderly, Miss Harriet St. John, Mrs. Clarence O. Fromer, Miss Ellen Noyes, Mrs. John McKinnon, Mrs. Wilson Norwood, Miss Janet Goodsell, Miss Ann O'Meara, Miss Ann Herzog, Mrs. Robert Herzog, Mrs. Jacob H. Tremper, Jr., Miss Mary Phelps, Miss Isabelle Brigham, Miss Granger Stewart and Miss Elizabeth Darrow.

With the Wilby Golf Club assured the proceeds of this fashion revue and dance will be used to complete and furnish the club house. This Revue will take place two weeks from last evening, April 27, at the new Municipal Auditorium.

The Ulster Garden Club will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. George V. D. Hutton at her home, 27 West Chestnut street.

At their meeting Monday the Mothers' Association of the Academy of St. Ursula made tentative plans for the regular spring garden party. To further discuss plans and arrangements there will be another meeting of this association Tuesday afternoon, April 17, at 2:30 o'clock at the school auditorium. A full attendance is urged.

This evening several members of the local Junior League plan to attend the revue given by the Newburgh Junior League. Those who will motor to Newburgh for this performance are Mr. and Mrs. George V. D. Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Tremper, Jr.

The Kingston High School Parent-Teacher Association will hold their regular April meeting this coming Tuesday evening in the school library. The question "Is the high school fulfilling its obligations?" will be debated at this time when Harold B. Storey will direct the discussion from the standpoint of the parent, and Chester C. DuBois from the standpoint of the community. While several members of the public speaking department will introduce the matter from the students' viewpoint. Also at this time the questions submitted by the parents at the last meeting will be taken up by Mr. Nickerson and other members of the faculty. The president of the association, Mrs. Liecom, urges a large attendance as there is business of importance which she wishes to bring before the group at this time.

For the thirty-first successive year the 30 active and associate members of the Mendelssohn Club entertained at a concert at the high school this past Wednesday evening. A host of friends, many of whom have been attending the concerts for a quarter of a century, braved the inclement weather to show their appreciation for this group of men who have helped establish such a high tradition of music in Kingston. Following the concert the members of the club with the assisting soloists of the evening gathered at the Governor Clinton Hotel for the annual dance which has also become a tradition of this club.

As soon as the members and their guests had gathered, supper was served in the regular dining room of the hotel, and remarks becoming the occasion were made by the president, Vernon S. Miller, the vice-president, N. Le Van Haver, and by Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman and Dr. Tidmarsh, director. At this time also Miss Maria Becker, the guest artist of the evening, gave a violin solo accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Penick, and Frank Erwin, assisting tenor soloist from Schenectady, sang several selections. Following the supper the 60 couples attending adjourned to the Crystal Room where they danced until a late hour, Zucca's orchestra furnishing the music.

The Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. will hold a benefit card party this coming Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the "Y" hall. As the proceeds will be for service work the many friends of this club are urged to patronize the party.

LONG HERDING JOB TO END THIS YEAR

Canada Moving Herd of 2,500 Deer to Feed Eskimos.

Ottawa.—The longest and toughest "herding" job in history, a "drive" of 2,500 reindeer along the Arctic coast from Alaska to new grazing grounds at the mouth of the Mackenzie river, is to be completed by Christmas, the Department of the Interior has just been advised.

A dozen herders undertook the task at Christmas time of 1929, and expected to complete it in two years. At Christmas of this year, the time now set for the completion of the job, the time spent will have been a full five years. The trek began from the Buckland river valley, Alaska.

Purchased by the Canadian government from the Lower Bros. corporation in Alaska, the herd is being moved to its new home to supply food and skins for the Eskimo population which numbers about 4,000. Native game is becoming scarce.

The reindeer herders, according to departmental accounts, have put in four and one-half exciting and exciting years in marshaling their charges. They have had to fight off wolves which constantly have attacked the herd; they have had to contend with sickness and accidents among their own numbers as well as in the deer herd; they have had to foot it through icy wilderness and tangled scrub, over glare ice and treacherous snowy hummocks. And, most provoking perhaps of all handicaps, they have had to contend with the homing instincts of the animals, and their repeated tactics of coming back on their tracks.

The first year's efforts demonstrated that progress had to be discontinued from March to November because of the fawning season and impossibility of the youngsters navigating swollen rivers. This year the herd and herders got within 70 miles of their goal, when it was planned to push ahead day and night and put an end to the job. Blizzards, however, swept the ice bare of snow and the animals could not get footing; finally the whole herd stampeded back to Shingle Point after a score of miles of progress.

So the herders and their proteges are going to summer at Shingle Point and about December 1 commence the final dash to their objective. If things go well all will eat their Christmas dinner at their new home.

Above the cholin cactus, throughout both the thorny acacia, catclaw and low shrub leading up to the Santa Rita mountains from Tucson, you find cactus wren nests. The most conspicuous ornithological feature of the landscape. Their large straw-colored, reed-shaped forms stand out strikingly though well protected by an arrangement of thorns from hawks, owls and other enemies. Of 60 found in thorn-clad bushes or trees, 25 were Nature Magazine. 25 were additionally safeguarded by being hidden inside thick round clumps of the red-flowered mistletoe, whose berries offer desert food to the black phainopepla.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE

MISSING other women, who are usually on the part of a husband's social life, Supreme Court Judge Peter J. Connelley of New York.

A woman used her husband for sympathy, claiming cruel and inhuman treatment in his constant absence, starting a fight for a divorce, and such as having a young woman's heart met in a hotel lobby.

But that, in the opinion of the judge, was not exactly at all. It was a very inconsiderate.

"Marriage is not a romantic sentiment," said he, "and a married man is not a social leper when the bonds are united."

In fact, "marriage is founded on a firm foundation to be shaken by whim, disappointment or selfishness."

The "whim" and "selfishness" in which the judge refers, was of course on the part of the wife whom he called hysterical and superstitious, "as evidenced by her peculiar idea of a wife's duty to her husband."

We will be impelled to wonder if the judge would call "hysterical" a man who objected to

New Paltz Normal School Activities

New Paltz, April 14.—Those of the faculty who are attending the annual spring conference of the National Association of Normal Schools for Teachers, at the University of Wisconsin, are: Dr. Lawrence H. Vandenberg, Dr. Edgar V. Beebe, Benjamin J. Ward, Dr. Roland G. Will, Prof. Charles E. Huntington, Miss Grace MacArthur, Miss Ruth Bennett, and Miss Anne Harder.

Members of the Student Council are: Dot Keddle, Jane Pardy, Helen Fogarty, and Ruth Hatch. Walter Joy, the senior class president, Don Meagher, president of the Junior class, are also members of the delegation.

Charles C. Ward, former member of the New Paltz faculty, now principal of the Normal School at Plattsburg, is a member of its board of control. A banquet was held in the Hotel Pennsylvania grand ball room Friday night, April 13, which was followed by a dance and social program. The entire New Paltz delegation attended.

Wednesday night Thespians entertained at a dinner-dance. The sorority house was filled with students. The decorations were soft pastels to represent early spring blossoms. Supper at five-thirty consisted of tomato juice, roast pork, apple pie and coffee. The dancing began at eight-thirty with Bob Walker's orchestra furnishing the music. Della Leggett, the sorority president, officiated.

Wednesday evening, April 18, the Junior High Club will hold its annual supper dance in the gymnasium. Dancing until midnight will follow the full course supper. Spring flowers will be the decorations. Joe Clark is president of the club and hopes for a good attendance. Tickets are on sale. Among those of the faculty who will attend are the Misses Gertrude E. Strobel, Stella Higgins, Marion Harding, Miss Bennett, Elizabeth Losel, Rebecca McKenna, Mrs. Kline and Loren Campbell.

Thursday night, April 19, Alpha Sigma Omicron Cabaret Show will be held. This will include floor show, dancing and supper. The floor show is under the direction of Phyllis Conger, Bob Walker and Herb Adler and will include such New Paltz celebrities as Ruth Hatch, Charlotte Tammey, Myrtle Thompson, Charles Alexander, Ross Parrott, Billie Schermerhorn and George Green.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Harold G. Campbell has been presented with the Italian silver medal of merit for distinguished accomplishment in education. Italian Consul General Antonio Grossardi made the award on the Italian liner Roma. Piero Perini, director general of Italians abroad, and Minister Plenipotentiary made the presentation address.

During the Easter vacation Miss Alice Herald, member of the office staff since 1928, a graduate of Coxsack High School, and before coming to New Paltz finished a course in Albany Business College, became the bride of W. A. Thurber on Good Friday. Mr. Thurber teaches mathematics and science at Westford, New York, high school. Mrs. Thurber will continue her work at the Normal.

During the vacation Miss Dorothy Giddings and Miss Ruth E. Jones visited Virginia Hot Springs, they report fine weather and exciting adventures.

Miss Gertrude Thompson and Miss Gertrude Strobel of the faculty recently entertained other members of the faculty at tea.

Mrs. Hene Compton has been entertaining Miss Herwing of Kingston, a former student of the Normal.

Dr. and Mrs. Roland G. Will have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William K. Wilson at Albany.

During the spring vacation Miss Jessie Frisch motored through Pennsylvania. Miss Rebecca McKenna spent a few days in New York and Atlantic City.

Miss Ailsa E. Reid motored twice to Ithaca to convey her brother, James, to and from Cornell to his home in town for his vacation.

Tuesday afternoon a panel discussion was conducted at the Training School by three district superintendents, Mrs. Craib, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Bates. Those participating and answering questions were: Benjamin Matteson, Miss Mary Ellen Rich and Howard Mosher of the Normal. About sixty students attended. The discussion was about problems of progressive education in rural schools.

Plans Progressing For Charity Ball

The general committee arranging for the fifteenth annual charity ball of Kingston Society, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, to be held next Friday evening at the new Kingston Hunnery Auditorium, met last evening at the K. of C. Home. The chairman of the various sub-committees reported that plans for a grand event were progressing.

Andrew Gilday, secretary of the general committee, reported that the tickets had been mailed out and that to date about 1500 tickets had been made. William O'Reilly, chairman of the committee, stated that the remaining 300 tickets would be sold as soon as possible.

General Chairman, Walter L. Foster, reported that tickets have been placed on sale in the two O'Reilly stores, at 100 Broadway and 34 John street.

Florian Wignert expressed the wish that all members of the Fourth Degree Assembly wear their social badges.

The opinion of the general committee is that the annual charity ball will exceed every other ball of the city.

The ball will be held from 8 o'clock until the auditorium is closed for the night. A concert, interspersed by novelty numbers, will be given from 8 to 9 o'clock; the entertainment, including at least five act-time acts, will be presented from 9 to 10 o'clock and at the latter hour dancing will start. The music being furnished by John Ernie's Imperials and Bob Steuding's Radiocasters, conducted by Roger Baer.

In order that the various acts might be seen from every part of the big auditorium, it has been decided to stage the acts on the ballroom floor. Absence of decorations from the girders will permit occupants of the galleries to obtain an unobstructed view of the proceedings.

They couldn't match Hupmobile quality so Hupp matched their price

This big four-door Sedan with the beauty of air line styling—a true Hupmobile in every respect is priced at $545

See this big, roomy Hupmobile 4-door Sedan at our showrooms

In the past few years, many people who would normally own Hupmobiles—people who appreciate quality, have had to forego fine-car ownership. But now an exciting new automobile has solved their problem overnight!

And what's more, this new car is a Hupmobile of thrilling new Aero-dynamic design...in either a big four-door Sedan or a smart Coupe. And it's a car built with absolutely no compromise—none of the usual "skimping" so often found when costs must be kept down.

You won't believe your eyes when you see these cars and realize their low list prices. Everything about them has that fine-car quality which you would naturally associate with Hupmobile. And the performance is true Hupmobile performance—but that's too good to describe... Better drive one yourself and see what we mean. Bring your present car along for an appraisal.

OFFICE CAT
By J. J. SIMMONS

SPRING.
When a cat is in the office, it is a nuisance. It will sit on the typewriter, and when you try to type, it will jump up and scratch you. It will also sit on the desk and look at you when you are talking. It is a very annoying animal, and if you have one in the office, you will find it very difficult to get any work done.

And then I found out that the cat was not the only animal in the office. There was also a dog. The dog was a very friendly animal, and it would sit on the desk and look at you when you were talking. It was a very annoying animal, and if you have one in the office, you will find it very difficult to get any work done.

Correct. This sentence was changed the appearance to improve it. The manufacturer, and not to make old cars look queer.

The automobile may duplicate the pedestrian, but it is far from approximating his nimble footwork. And we may add, Lord help us if it does achieve that facility.

Salesman: How do you know you can't afford a car?
Man—I have one.

The row that doesn't produce pigs is sold to the butcher. The man who does not add something to the moral and spiritual wealth of the world, is like an automobile that is out of gas.

When treating your friends to a ride in your new car, suggest a local man, don't appear nervous or talk excitedly if you run over a pedestrian or if you think it is the first car you ever owned.

Youth—You see, if we enter into companionate marriage we can live together for a while and then, if we find we've made a mistake, we can separate.

Sweet Young Thing (thoughtfully)—Yes—but—but—what'll become of the mistake?

The parking problem for father is not how late he can park the car, but how late daughter's "boy friend" is going to park in the parlor.

One of the two flappers in the bus from Saugerties was reading a newspaper.

First Flapper—I see that Mr. So-and-So, the octogenarian, is dead. Now what on earth is an octogenarian?

Second Flapper—I'm sure I haven't the faintest idea. But they're a sickly lot. You never hear of one but he's dying.

Exhausts... Road experts urging removal of hazards might extend their investigations to one-arm drivers. When a golf player driving his car hits a pedestrian he thinks it a disgrace to slice him. Don't talk like that to your old motor car battery. You'll be old and weak some day too. If times keep getting better there may yet be a car for every filling station. About the easiest way to ditch a girl is to try driving with one arm. A road patrol is more necessary than ever, now that hard liquor is being sold.

Child—A man to see you, mother dear.
Mother—Ask him to come in and take a chair, darling.
Child—But he says he came for all of them!

Many persons who have been quite unhappy themselves are very sure they could order the lives of those near them very happily indeed.

A Scotchman and friends had just finished dinner in an exclusive and very expensive hotel when the waiter arrived with the bill. "Give it to me; I'll pay it," came in loud clear tones from the Scotchman. The following day the headlines appeared in a local newspaper: "Scotchman Strangles Ventriloquist."

Girl—Where is your fiance? He isn't with you tonight.
Chum—No. He tripped over a stone.

Girl—Oh, I'm so sorry. Is it very bad?
Chum—Yes, it was the stone I wanted him to buy.

A bachelor girl, knowingly defines a local man, is one who has been asked to marry plenty of times but only by her mother and father.

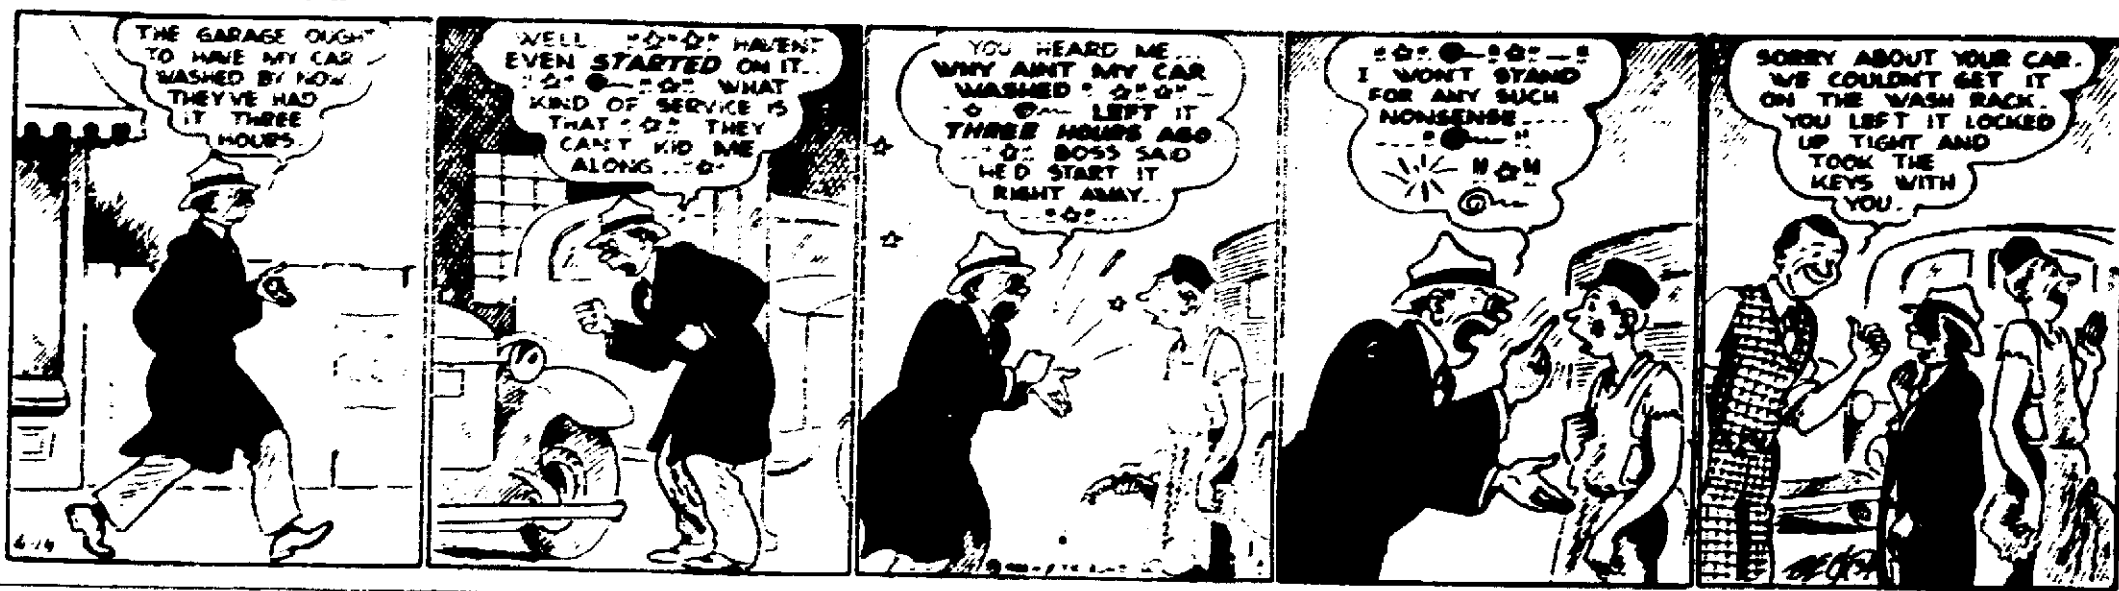

Solomon thought: Many a man's piece of mind has been ruined by a piece of his wife's mind.

MOTHER-IN-LAW'S DAY

THE town of Amarillo, Texas, has added a new holiday to the calendar. "Mother-in-law's day."

The slogan of the town on that day was "A mother-in-law is a mother who has made good." The mayor issued a proclamation calling for city-wide observance. The leading theater gave an entertainment, and business houses contributed favors and prizes. Awards went to the oldest and youngest, the prettiest mother-in-law, and the one with the greatest number of children married.

Well! What do we think about that?

The important question, it seems to me, is who started it. Is Amarillo a town so distinguished for happy marriages that the men have banded together to honor the mothers who so brought up their wives to make them happy? Is it with grateful sons-in-law that the movement started for "Mother-in-law's day?"

Badly, no. This is how it happened: Some of Amarillo's prominent matrons, encouraged by Gene A. Howe, newspaper publisher, have organized the Mother-in-Law's club of Texas.

The club's president says, "A mother-in-law is one who has brought up her daughters in such a way that they want to marry and make homes, and have enough appeal that men want to marry them."

Most of the mothers-in-law I know would be a bit embarrassed, I think, by such a movement on the part of a woman's club in their town. Mothers (and therefore mothers-in-law) are people who do not have to advertise. They give as they do of themselves because that giving is a part of them. And there is nothing they want out of life, as a rule, which "selling themselves" could obtain for them.

Mothers are human, of course, and they are appreciated. It is a great joy to a mother to know that she has the affection of her daughter's husband or her son's wife. But it is the spontaneity of this that brings their satisfaction and I think the rank and file of mothers-in-law would not be greatly enthused over a holiday in their name sponsored by a woman's club.

BIRTHDAY MILESTONE AT "OUR SCHOOL"

"Our School" at Stone Ridge reopened after the Easter vacation with a 100 per cent enrollment. The week was festive with three birthday cakes to be cut and a birthday party given in honor of Miss Margaret Schoonmaker, the teacher of the Junior School. An out-of-door roast had been planned for the occasion, but was of necessity abandoned because of the continued cold and damp weather. The party was consequently confined to indoor games, a distribution of gifts, and a round of tea and cake.

Birthday are always gala occasions at "Our School," though productive at times of rather disconcerting gifts, upon a recent birthday one of the donations being an honest-to-goodness and on-the-hoof living Plymouth Rock hen. Like Mary's little lamb the gift was more appreciated by the pupils than the teacher, who, however, demonstrated a true sportsmanship by giving the visitor class room harborage for the day's session.

Master Douglas Hasbrouck of Stone Ridge and Master Billy Hutton of West Chestnut street in Kingston are both back among the re-enrolled pupils of "Our School."

O. E. S. CHAPTER HAD RECEPTION FOR OFFICERS

Kingston Chapter, No. 155, O. E. S., held a reception in honor of the past matrons and patrons of Kingston chapter. The worthy matron expressed her appreciation for their presence and extended them a cordial welcome and pleasant evening.

After which the officers gave a very pretty degree. "The Gates of Yesterday." Each officer presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Jessie Wolfenstein sang "Open Wide the Gates." There was a fan dance by Marion Davis. A vocal solo followed, sung by Alice Trowbridge, accompanied by Eva Clinton. Then came a dance by Beverly Bonestell and Marion Davis. "The Cat and Her Kitten." Shadow waltz by Beverly Bonestell. A solo by Jessie Wolfenstein. The entertainment was enjoyed by all.

Refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Fashion Plots A Well-Dressed Day Fashions by Eleanor Gunn

When You Take Off Your Coat

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild.

A silk pique ensemble from Martini et Armand, the coat is navy with white squares and this material also lines the coat.

Next is a coat-jacket in white facoon cotton pique worn over a navy woolen frock with yoke of the pique; the buttons consist of groups of two sticks of navy galalith.

Huge pewter pointed disks are caught by twisted leather thongs of tweed-like navy woolen in chevron weave; the blouse is of printed to fasten the jacket of this suit from Alva Barton. The suit, itself, is blue and white fabric with white lacings.

"To Eat Humble Pie"

Here, humble is a pun on humble, the humble being the heart, liver, and entrails of deer, the huntman's parquise. When the lord and his household dined, the venison party was served on the dais, while the humble was made into a pie for the huntman and his fellows, who took the lower seats.

First Gingham

The word "gingham" is from the town of Guingamp, in Brittany, where it was first made.

SEERSUCKERS FOR SERVICE

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild.

The dress illustrates a fine woven seersucker in red and white. Note the interesting neckline which has the drawn effect at front ending in a scarf at back and tied into a bow. The cap sleeves add to its nonchalance.

There's a Seersucker Born Every Minute

New York—Every so often a fabric is drizzled, Cinderella-fashion out of the kitchen and taken out into the big round world. Gingham enjoyed this experience and having once escaped from the kitchen refused to ever again be regarded as a strictly domestic house pet. We now wear gingham everywhere. With checks in everyone's mind and the plaything of designers and dress-makers in general, it would appear as though checked gingham would be worn by big girls as well as all their nice little sisters.

Gingham has a rival also of lowly origin and long domestic service. We refer to seersucker which not only clothes some of our choicest women but our swaggiest maids. The seersucker suit for men got its start in life in college, after which it naturally followed through to the broad salesman class. Brother

Linen in Off and Odd Shades

The trend to colors in linen is steadily gaining in style importance. The tendency is to off and odd shades. Reports from Southern resorts very definitely indicate this, and offer a clue as to which direction the demand is likely to swing for summer.

This revival of interest in greens has special significance this year, since this particular family has been in retirement for several seasons. There is mention of favor also for the dark grounds, including the vivid emerald, and the billiard shade, the latter particularly smart for town as well as country.

POUR milk or cream on a bowlful of Kellogg's Rice Krispies. Then listen as they snap and crackle their story of delicious crispness.

You've never tasted anything so good. Serve for breakfast or lunch. An ideal food for children. Light and easy to digest. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Agnes, Paris milliner, employs much taffeta, which she intends using for capelines. It is also being considered for toques in shirred effects.

This modiste launches a new light mauve blue inspired by the color of a neon light.

Yellow is acclaimed as the smart thing for the coming season. So far this spring dull and bright gold have been more prominent than yellow.

If you want something new in colors which were featured in the Parisian couture houses and which have had a subsequent style demand here, include sapphire blue, blue de France, rose hortensia, pink yellow, lovebird green, beige and chestnut.

blouses try organdie. Lack organdies run to strictly shirt types and softer models, with big chin bows and sleeve bows. Some imports are of glazed organdies, metal-threaded organdie and tucked necks.

Feminine evening gowns that give the effect of floating movement are prominent in spring collections.

Washable prints for summer sports wear are being given more attention this year than for several seasons. They are advanced on silk crepes and on various rayons with the idea that they will be used for speculator sports costumes, particularly for country club tea dances and older women's models.

White hats are important, because many women will buy them to match white accents on their costumes. Pique hats, also, the striped linen and organdie are liked.

Lace is reported as probably bigger in a fashion sense than it has been for several seasons, with its possible use in formal afternoon dresses as well as those for evening.

Linen is used for several of the newest hats, either alone or in combination with straw. An instance of the latter is a canister with dim slightly rolled up at back, the hat itself of white straw.

A Falling Star

A falling star is a meteor. If it actually reaches the earth it is known as a meteorite. Meteors are ray masses which under certain circumstances of motion and position dash into the earth's atmosphere at a speed of from 10 to 40 miles per second. The heat generated by the friction with the upper air usually completely vaporizes or burns them.

Ice and Snow Evaporate

Ice and snow will evaporate in extremely cold weather even though the temperature never gets near the melting point. Washed clothing in the Arctic and Antarctic region freezes stiff when first hung out but will be dry in a week's time.

Reviewing The After-Easter Parade

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild.

At the upper left is an interesting costume that introduces three colors, a dark tone for the cape coat, and two pastels for the bodice and skirt. The next frock combines black with pale blue in crepe. The neckline treatment at the back is noteworthy. Taffeta is much talked about for spring. Here is a jacket ensemble that poses a self ruche at the neckline and repeats it in a line at the neckline. The color is navy blue. A two-piece dress, second from right, the jumper fitted easily at the waistline is developed in navy blue novelty crepe, and multi-color taffeta is pieced to form an effect. The skirt at the neckline and to suggest a collar. At extreme right, a costume in midnight blue sheer crepe introduces movement in the coat at the front, the tied treatment also being effective. Waife pique makes a crisp finishing for the gown and skirt.

France's Budget Is Financially Balanced and Commercial

PARIS, April 14 (P.)—The French budget, which was almost at a standstill today, was finally passed by the Chamber of Deputies. The budget, which was passed by a narrow margin, was a victory for the government. The budget was passed by a vote of 317 to 298.

Free Diphtheria Clinics Arranged

The second of a series of diphtheria prevention clinics conducted by Dr. L. E. Sanford of the health department will be held Wednesday afternoon, April 18, from 2 to 4 o'clock at the Kingston Hospital.

The clinics are being held in order to bring up to date the children of the city who have not been vaccinated against diphtheria.

EXHIBITION OF OIL PAINTINGS AT WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, April 14.—At Simpson's Little Gallery at Woodstock there is an exhibition of 16 oil paintings signed "Dessa," the work of D. S. Anderson. There may be seen there until the 21st of the month.

They are all studies in still life of various composition as "Apple and Tomato," "Bananas and Grapes." Probably the most interesting and well done are those portraying men's hats in combination with other things, however, those portrayals of fruit and vegetables leave one in different and without any desire to taste them.

There also is on display a small collection of etchings by R. W. Woloski, which deserve more than passing mention. These are snow scenes in great variety in which the artist actually catches the bright glint of a strong winter sun upon the snow and brings it to you from the spray thrown by the rapid motion of the brush. "In the Snow" is a perfect illustration. In "The Snowing" one actually sits with the child inside the large studio window and watches the falling snow. Other scenes as "In the Snow" and "Winter in the Catskills" in their crisp, fresh detail take one back to those very places where somehow one has been with the ether.

Elizabeth Bush Woloski shows a few water colors of vases with flowers, but they are too neutral and indistinct to hold the attention. Her wood cuts do her more favor.

Mrs. Marion Bullard and her dog, "The Bold Kennel," drove to Middletown Thursday.

Leslie Elwyn has commenced construction on a concrete block garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Sheldon are driving to Danbury, Conn., to spend the week-end with friends and relatives.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR THE COMING WEEK

North and Middle Atlantic States: Rain at beginning of week and again about Friday; colder about Tuesday; rising temperature Thursday and Friday.

Dance at Accord.
The regular Saturday night dance will be held tonight at the I. O. O. F. Hall, Accord. Modern and old-fashioned dancing will be enjoyed during the evening with music furnished by the Pineola orchestra.

With Accents of White for Spring

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

bit wooden in black and white. This fabric, with rabbit fur woven into it, is very soft to the touch and its corded surface brings it right up to the moment in chic. Then, too, it is unbelievably light weight, which is another reason added to its good looks.

Why style creators are showing such enthusiasm for these weaves. The white gaily scarf adds a touch of infinite chic. Its flaxen lines take their cue from the much discussed airplane and wing effects. The hip-length box-jacket with swagger saddle shoulder is a high-style note. With its horizontal use of the striping the modish wrap-around skirt contrasts pleasantly with the vertical and horizontal stripes of the jacket.

Rippled revers of ermine, a white ribbed satin blouse together with a patterned styling makes the suit to the right an outstanding number. The manner in which the jacket fastens with a tie of self fabric is characteristic of new fashion trends. The hat with a forward movement to the brim has made its entry into the millinery realm.

And now we want to be telling you about the clever bag and scarf ensemble shown below to the right in the picture. It is made of white velvet, which is none other than the handsomest crinkled white velvet ever beheld, and give ear to this—it's washable! Comes in colors, too, does this new summer velvet. You can wear the soft drapery triangular scarf in many effective ways. Fasten it to the front and the scarf drops to the back between the shoulders in the new monk-hood lines which designers are so widely featuring this season. Reverse the order of things by buttoning this scarf at the back and presto! you have the fashionable draped cow neck.

WEAR FLOWERS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Dresses are finally appearing without mannish cut. A whole parade of little beauties wear sports outfits that are soft and breezy with ruffles.

The tie silks, which a year ago would simply have shrieked masculine attire, are this year's feminine delights. Whether soft or stiff tie silks, the collars are ruffled or pleated. This frilly touch takes care of all the trimming touches on the dresses.

It's a positive fact now that spring is to be lively, and very hot tamale. The Mexican style and coloring have caught on in a big way.

In the sports department the two-piece dress is being shown in a tuck-in style with the top and the skirt in different colors. It's a nice idea as it offers an alternative blouse. If you don't like this idea, you can trim the blouse with the skirt fabric, giving it a nice ensemble touch.

Bows at Heels Are Fad in Spring Footwear Styles

The back of the shoe will have no reason to feel slighted this spring. In keeping with the extensive use of bows at the back of dresses, new footwear styles include dainty little bows at the heels.

In some of the styles this new heel bow is of ribbon matching the dress in color and carried through loops at the side of the shoe.

Shankless kid opera pumps, with no sole under the arch, are another innovation in footwear fashions—one on which a designer is said to have spent five years of experimentation. Instead of a sole the upper of the shoe is brought down under the arch and seamed.

Windwept Hats

A windwept effect is remarked on fashionable heads. Hair is dressed swept back from the face and hats are worn rolled back from foreheads.

Spring Note in Scarfs

Scarfs of crinkled tulle ribbon, of fluffy chenille wound around the throat or of shining cravat silk sound a springtime note contrasting with winter.

Legion May Profit By Cleanup Week

Cleanup week having been proclaimed by Mayor Conrad J. Heine, members of the American Legion, expect that the suggestion will be a boon to the salvage drive being conducted by the post to procure funds for the drum corps.

The corps has a truck on the road collecting newspapers, magazines, rags, empty bottles that have a deposit value and anything that has a salvage value. These things will be turned into cash by the Legion.

Anyone having salvage material for the Legion may phone 1914 and request the truck to call for it.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—About a year ago

Tom Keene, the young western star, put his good steady flag out to pas-sars, tucked away his chips and his sombrero and left Hollywood, where he was making money and receiving about $300 fan letters a month.

He went east to return to the stage. He played in stock, did six weeks with the famous Lakewood players at Showhegan, Me., and singularly tried to lose the cowboy drawl he had, equally studiously, acquired when he first ventured into

"westerns."

It was all part of his agreement with King Vidor, the director who had placed him under personal contract.

Without a Horse

"You're just the type I have in mind," Vidor had told Keene over the luncheon table the day they first met.

Keene was interested. The type

Vidor had in mind was to play the lead in "Our Daily Bread," a period story of his dealing with agricultural folk battling against depression. To Keene it represented an opportunity to return, in a good role, to the ranks of regular actors—with out a horse.

He returned recently, at Vidor's summons. The director, soon to become work as an independent producer, is ready to launch his picture.

Although Keene was on salary from Vidor during the year, he figures it cost him about $40,000 to take the course he chose. Parts aggregating that much were offered him, but he thinks his gamble was worth it. Even since he returned he has rejected an offer of $5,000 for one week's work on a "western."

The "Western" Formula

"I liked westerns, and I wouldn't take anything for the experience," he says, "but I couldn't see any future in them. Everybody was saying that westerns were finished, besides, when I left. And I was tired of making the same story over and over. You know, you ride over the hill and knock out the villain, seize the girl and ride back again into the sunset—and there's your picture."

This is actually Keene's third start in films. He came to Hollywood from the stage six years ago, but his real name, George Duryea, seemed a handicap. Perhaps it sounded too "dainty" for the husky, clean-cut, athletic chap he is.

Harry Joe Brown, the producer, suggested the change of name and the "westerns," and they brought the fan mail and the following he hopes will continue in his new career under Vidor's direction.

Secretary Bird Kills Snakes

Snake flesh is a favorite article of diet of the secretary bird, of South and East Africa, which is very fearless in attacking even the more venomous varieties of reptiles. The bird, which stands some four feet high, stamps the life out of its victims with its powerful legs and feet. Its wings are thought to act as shields from the snake's poisonous fangs although the bird is remarkably agile in keeping out of the way of these.

MODENA HOME BUREAU MEETING HELD THURSDAY

Modena, April 14—The regular meeting of the Modena Home Bureau was held on Thursday, April 12, at the Clintondale Grange Hall, when the final lessons in the project of "Modern Methods in Housecleaning" were given by Mrs. Jonah Rhodes and Miss Irene Sietler of the Household Department. Silver, new-ter and brass articles were cleaned and instructions given for materials used in the work. Miss Emma Palmer reported that much commendation had been made regarding the Home Bureau exhibit made recently in the store of Miss Ina Gerald in Clintondale. Mrs. Frank Black announced that Mrs. Frederick Bond of the Milton Home Bureau has extended an invitation to the Modena Bureau members to visit the Milton Library Thursday, April 24, to display articles made in the Home Bureau projects, thereby encouraging the Milton unit in their work. Discussions were made regarding the contemplated trip to Glen Falls May 2-3, when the State Federation meeting is in session. Further plans will be announced later.

During the luncheon hour, a representative of the Central Hudson G. & E. Co. invited the ladies to inspect a completely electrified, modern kitchen which they had on display in Clintondale at that time.

The annual election of officers to serve at the commencing of the Home Bureau season, which is September, 1934, resulted as follows:
Chairman, Mrs. Weygant Courter.
Sr., re-elected; vice chairman, Mrs.
Myron Shultis, re-elected; secretary,
Mrs. Eber Cox; treasurer, Mrs. Ira Hyatt. The next meeting of the Bureau will be held Thursday, May 10, at Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck's home in Modena, and will be the final meeting before Advisory Council at Kingston, May 12.

Those in attendance at Thursday's meeting were: Miss Irene Sietler,
Mrs. Jonah Rhodes, Miss Hilda
Rhodes, Mrs. Philip Baker, Mrs.
Mrs. William Bahret, Mrs. Lydia
Berger, Mrs. Calvin Cole, Mrs. Ella Ostrand, Mrs. Anna Brown, of Clintondale; Mrs. Fred Eckert Emma Palmer, Mrs. Eber Palmer, Miss Marian Palmer, Mrs. George Albensen, Mrs. C. Byrnes, Mrs. Orville Seymour, Mrs. Ira Hyatt, Mrs. Eber
Cox, of Ardonia; Mrs. C. Bahar, Miss Nellie Albeuzen, Mrs. Chris-
tion Mathelson, Mrs. Myron Shultis, Miss Glennie Wager, Mrs. Joseph
Hasbrouck, Mrs. A. Brinkerhoff,
Mrs. Frank Black, Miss Mary Carroll, Mrs. Weygant Courter, Sr.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "Death Takes a Holiday." A strangely beautiful story of Death, who comes to earth disguised as a human being. He has wandered for a long time the reason that men fear him, and he decides to mingle with humanity and discover the feelings and emotions of human existence. So he comes to earth, and attends a house party under the name of Prince Strat.

Here he finds romance and desire for the first time, and he falls completely in love with a beautiful girl.
Death takes a holiday, but like all holidays, it ceases before it has hardly begun. This play is one of the most intelligent and brilliant of feelings ever to come from the movie mills, and it is a standout production of unusual merit. Excellent direction, masterful performances by a cast of real players and the unusual blend into a perfect bit of thought provoking drama. Heading the cast is Fredric March in the title role, and supporting him are Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Sir
Guy Standing and Gail Patrick.
Worth seeing.

Orpheum: "Eight Girls in a Boat" and "Horse Play." Life in a girl's training school in Europe is brought to the screen in the first feature, an unusual story with a fine cast of players and some exceptional photography. One of the girls in the school discovers she is about to become a mother, and the plot centers around the protection and help that her classmates give her. All turns out in satisfactory fashion however. Dorothy Wilson,
Douglas Montgomery, Kay Johnson
and Walter Connolly head the large cast. Well done and worth seeing.
"Horse Play" is pure comedy with Slim Summerville and Andy Devine travelling to Europe and getting mixed up with the bluebirds and trouble and horses all at the same time.

Broadway: "Four Acts of Vaudeville" and "Hips, Hips, Hooray."

The headline this week at the Broadway Theatre is "Hips, Hips, Hooray," starring the popular Broadway comedienne, Dorothy Wilson, and her comedy team,
Douglas Montgomery, Kay Johnson

Head California Quarter-Mile Crop

Track fans of the Pacific coast say there never has been such a crop of star quarter-milers as the "big four" of California universities have come up with this spring. Jimmy LaValle (left), of U. C. L. A., sets the pace with a 17.4 quarter. Al Blackman (right) of Stanford has a mark only one-tenth second slower, as has John McArthur (right, center). Southern California Trojan senior, is only another tenth behind their best times.

Major League Rookies Should Have a Banner Year In 1934 On Lake Washington

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, April 14 (AP). The rookies that bloom in the spring often turn out to be the "champions" of mid-summer. Yet it only a fair percentage of the youngsters who have been providing the training camp thrills turn out to be a good as their early performance indicates.

Among the year's prize rookies are such players as Don Hoerner and Red Rolfe, the Yankees' new infield pair. Harry Lavagotto of the Pirates, Harland Clift and Alan Strange, Browns' infielders, Zeke Bonura of the White Sox, and Hal Trosky of the Indians, all of whom have been picked to start the season as regulars.

The lower ranking clubs of the two big leagues have followed the natural course of collecting plenty of new talent. The situation is unusual in that their efforts have met with more than ordinary success.

Brooklyn's Dodgers have about the highest collection of promising youngsters in the National League, including several who proved their worth in late tryouts last season.

Manager Casey Stengel already has picked Emil Leonard, from York, Pa., and Charlie Perkins, the red-headed from Buffalo, as starting pitchers, and has decided that Johnny McCarthy, a first baseman fresh from the sand lots, is good enough to keep around all season.

The Dodgers also have Los Munnas, pitcher from St. Paul; Len Koe-necke, the outfielder who cost the Giants $75,000 a few years ago and earned to Montreal; Johnny Macreum, who made his brilliant 1933 debut late enough to retain his "rookie" rating; and Harry Matuzak from Oklahoma City.

The Washington Senators, American League champions, kept quiet about acquiring new talent until a few days ago when they tendered contracts to Gus Dugas, an outfielder who has been in the majors before, to replace Tony Pott, pitcher.

St. Louis has added Parrell "Cy" Blanton and Lloyd Johnson to its mound staff.

The Reds and the Braves have been building on a basis of tested talent and fail to show much in the rookie line but the world champion Giants expect to keep Joe Bowman, from Portland, as a relief pitcher and Hank Leibert as a spare outfielder.

To Investigate Further The Cubs, rated as strong pennant contenders, probably will keep Augie Galan, third baseman, who has been giving Woody English an argument; Tut Stainback, outfielder, and Roy Joiner and Bill Lee, pitchers, on hand for considerable further investigation.

Colonel Buster Mills, who sometimes lives up to his middle name, seems to have a pretty good chance for a job in the Cardinals' outfield while Paul Dean, Dixie's brother, and Jim Winford look like the best of their pitching prospects.

In addition to Rolfe and Hoerner in the Yankees' infield, Jack Salzgaver has been making a strong bid for the utility job. Manager Joe McCarthy also may get a few headaches from trying to whittle down the list of young pitchers, which includes Jimmy Denshoo, Harry Smythe and Johnny Murphy and possibly Johnny Broaca after the Yale flinger winds up his studies.

Boston's Red Sox, who have spent plenty of money buying veteran players, have limited their ventures in the rookie field to Julius Solters, a slugging outfielder from Baltimore, and Fritz Ostermueller, portside pitcher from Rochester. Neither seems likely to return to the minors.

Connie Mack, working to rebuild the Athletics' shattered mound staff, has been giving plenty of work to a pair of right handers, Bill Dietrich from Montreal and Joe Cascarella from Jersey City. He also has Tim McKeithan, tried last year and earned to Montreal; Johnny Macreum, who made his brilliant 1933 debut late enough to retain his "rookie" rating; and Harry Matuzak from Oklahoma City.

The Washington Senators, American League champions, kept quiet about acquiring new talent until a few days ago when they tendered contracts to Gus Dugas, an outfielder who has been in the majors before, to replace Tony Pott, pitcher.

Huskies Nose out Bears On Lake Washington

Seattle, April 14 (AP).—The racing crews of Washington and California were ready today to defend western honors in the National Intercollegiate Regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Following their mighty battle here yesterday when the Northern Huskies retained their Pacific coast rowing championship by the narrow margin of a quarter-boar length, the veteran national sprint titlists and coast champions of Washington and California were set to go east when and if their superiors say the word and raise the expense money.

Before the 31st annual regatta both rowing camps reported that victory would likely decide the west's representative on the Hudson river.

A crowd estimated at between 60,000 and 80,000 persons witnessed one of the most thrilling races on Lake Washington when the Huskies nosed out the Bears in a supreme last minute drive. It was a heart-breaking battle for the Californians after driving bow-and-bow down the three-mile course.

The Huskies won the blue-ribbon in 16 minutes 22.2 seconds. The Bears finished alongside in 16:54.1. The original mark made by California two years ago was 16:49.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Philadelphia.—Gus Sonnenberg, Boston, threw Hans Kamper, Germany, 29:57.

Des Moines, Ia.—O'Shooker, 212, Salt Lake City, defeated Cliff Olson, 205, Minneapolis, two out of three falls.

San Francisco.—Mickey Walker, 169, Rumson, N. J., drew with Bob Godwin, 174½, Moultrie, (10). Johnny O'Keefe, 152, Garfield, N. J., outpointed Jimmy Evans, 150, San Francisco, (8); Johnny Erjavio, 165, Minneapolis, outpointed Manuel Frutote, 179, Oakland, Calif.

And Catcher Elmer Klumpp from Chattanooga. The late decision seems to indicate that Manager Joe Cronin is well satisfied with their work in spring tryouts.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOLD, Associated Press Sports Editor

One of the few shifts that have stood up under the wear and tear of the major league training route is the comeback of Travis Jackson, Jackson as an outstop of the world champion New York Giants.

His replacement of the colorful Benny Ryan was the biggest single development in the Giants' camp at Miami Beach and the indications all point to Jackson being a vital factor in the attempt of the team to repeat.

It was only a year ago that Manager Bill Terry was basing his somewhat slim hopes of a first division berth upon Jackson's ability to play, really, as shortstop. It was a year ago, however, that Jackson's last were not fully recovered from his operation of the previous winter and then for the rest of the year the ex-Holy Cross star came through, playing a heroic role in the pennant drive, in familiar baseball history, one of the most dramatic episodes in any sport in recent years.

Ryan is now bustling around as the chief infield utility man, ready to substitute for either Jackson or Hughie Critz at second base, whenever the occasion demands.

Travis Sees Full Year

I talked with Jackson during the earlier workouts at Miami Beach long after he had been told by Terry that he had regained his old job.

"I don't want to be over-confident about my legs but I really feel they are back in good enough shape to carry me through the full season," said the Arkansas Traveler. "I figure it has simply taken longer than I originally expected to get over the effects of the operation on each knee. You know, they took a piece of bone out of one knee and a cartilage from the other."

"My legs really were all right last year but Ryan was going so good it would have been foolish to try to put me in there. When I had to go back into the game near the end of the season I was bothered by cramps. My knees gave me no trouble at all but the muscles, not having had enough active work, stiffened up and made me feel like I was playing on wooden legs."

Fine Slab Corps Clash

No matter how they fare along the exhibition trail, Terry and the Giants should have their batting eyes pretty well sharpened up by the time they finish their tour with Walter Johnson's Cleveland Indians.

The world champions happen to have picked one of the best curving corps in either league for spring training partners. The situation is mutual, inasmuch as pitching is the chief asset of the Giants, but the reports coming in from the correspondents indicate Hildebrand, Huddell, Pearson, Harder and others of Johnson's star staff have been flinging in more advanced form than Hubbell, Schumacher, Fitzsimmons and Parmelee.

Moreover, it is increasingly apparent if there is anything the matter with the Giants or any cause for apprehension in their early form, it is the absence of Gus Mancuso, recovering slowly from an attack of typhoid.

Separate Backward Chicks

Separating the robust or sturdy birds from the backward chickens cannot fail to benefit the poultryman. Backward birds will not make growth when running in flocks where they are continually harassed by older or better-developed chicks. A good plan is to make a feeding cage in which larger chicks or adult fowls cannot enter and which gives protection to young chicks while feeding. To give extra nutrition to assist growth of quill and feather, mix well a table-spoonful of linseed jelly (made by stewing ordinary luscious) in the wet mash for a week or so. This will promote growth and quality as well as luster on the new plumage.

Poultry-House Litters

Wheat straw and crushed corn cobs are the most abundant poultry house litter. Any litter should be light in weight, absorb moisture readily and be easily cleaned. Most poultry men use wheat straw, if it is available on the farm, but crushed cobs are popular because they are dry and are easy to clean out. When using cobs the chicks should have feed and water as soon as they are placed in the house, otherwise they may eat too many cobs.

Poultry Gleanings

The cause of dead chicks in shell may often be traced to the use of old, shelled hatching eggs.

Silver Palace League Banquet At Huling's

May 1 has been set as the date of the Silver Palace Bowling League banquet and the place, Huling's Barn, across the Washington avenue viaduct. The time and place were picked at a meeting of the league Friday night, presided over by Kenneth Van Etten, president.

Guests to be invited are Mayor Conrad J. Heiselein, John A. Cashin, City Judge Bernard A. Callahan and Judge Harry E. Schrick. Prizes will be awarded at the banquet, which is scheduled to start at 7 p. m. sharp.

It was decided at the meeting to have the Spencers and Mohicans meet for the league championship in a series of 15 games, the first block on April 17, the next on the 23rd and the other, if necessary, on the 25th. The series will be decided on a best of three basis.

The league and representatives who attended were: Mohicans, Joe Huber and Homer Emerick; Spencers, Kenneth Williams; Mohicans, Gilbert Simpson; Balconia, Fred Stornes; Montgomery Ward, Schayer; Schmitt; Postmans, Southwick; Rose and Gorman; Doc Longyear; Herndon; Wall; Prall; Raichle and Jones. Addison Jones, The Chevrolet, Tolson and Red Neumann were not represented.

Shields, Allison Meet In North, South Finals

Pinehurst, N. C., April 14 (AP).

Finals of the north and south tennis tournament brought a meeting of the country's first and second ranking players, Frank X. Shields of New York and Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., today.

The singles finalists were also opposed in the doubles, Shields paired with J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., and Allison with George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago.

Neither Shields nor Allison was used pressed to win in the semi-finals round. The New Yorker took Bryan Grant of Atlanta, in straight sets, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2, and gained revenge for a defeat by the Atlanta in this tournament last year. Allison beat Lott, 5-7, 9-7, 6-0, 6-1.

The women's singles finalists were Jane Sharp of Philadelphia, Calif., and Norma Tanabe of New York.

Ms. Sharp and Miss Tanabe were paired for the women's doubles against Grace Smyth, Jackson Heights, N. Y., and Florence Lamboullier, Westbury, L. I.

BILLIARDS

Gentle Wins

In their second block of the round robin at Nick's Friday night, Tony Gentle outpointed Freddie Planthaber, city champion, 118 to 105, thus defeating him in the series by 23 points or the total of 250-211. High runs were Planthaber 31, Gentle 26.

Twenty afternoon Stan Wojcik plays Julius Teller and if he wins will be tied with Planthaber for first place.

Junior Tourney

Tonight at Nick's there will be a junior tournament match between Louis Auchmoody and Eddie Murphy.
